

CITIZEN MEMORANDUM

Restoring Constitutional Governance and Fundamental Rights in Hawai'i

Part One: Parental Rights and Childhood Vaccination Policy

Part Two: Biosecurity Emergency Powers and Property Rights

Part Three: Emergency Proclamations and Constitutional Limits

I. OATH AND NOTICE

I am of lawful age, of sound mind, and acting voluntarily. I submit this Citizen Memorandum pursuant to my constitutional right to petition the government for redress of grievances and to place this notice into the public record.

I submit this memorandum as a parent and/or citizen of Hawai'i and as a beneficiary of the United States Constitution and the Hawai'i Constitution. I do not waive any rights. I do not consent to violations of bodily autonomy, parental authority, religious liberty, due process, property rights, or the separation of powers.

This memorandum serves as formal notice to the Legislature and Executive Branch that existing statutory frameworks and practices exceed constitutional limits and require immediate correction.

II. PURPOSE

This Citizen Memorandum addresses three interconnected constitutional failures:

1. Erosion of parental rights and informed consent in childhood medical policy, including efforts to eliminate religious exemptions and condition education or services on medical compliance.
2. Biosecurity emergency powers, particularly Section 3 (Part III) of Act 236 (2025), which authorize extraordinary actions affecting private property without sufficient judicial oversight, compensation, or temporal limits.
3. Emergency proclamations under HRS Chapter 127A, which have enabled prolonged or repeated suspensions of law and legislative authority beyond constitutionally permissible bounds.

These issues are nonpartisan, structural, and constitutional in nature.

This memorandum is supported by citizens and organizational endorsements attached as Exhibit C.

III. GOVERNING CONSTITUTIONAL PRINCIPLES

- Bodily integrity and medical choice are protected liberty interests under the Fourteenth Amendment.
- Parents hold the primary right to direct the upbringing and medical care of their children (Meyer; Pierce; Troxel).
- Religious liberty may not be burdened absent strict scrutiny and the least restrictive means.
- Informed consent requires full disclosure and a genuine right to refuse; coercion negates consent.
- Emergencies do not create new power (Blaisdell).
- Executive action cannot replace legislation (Youngstown).

Children are not property of the State. Constitutional rights are not suspended for administrative convenience.

PART ONE — PARENTAL RIGHTS AND CHILDHOOD VACCINATION POLICY

Children cannot consent and possess developing immune and neurological systems. Accordingly, the highest ethical and constitutional standards apply to government policy affecting childhood vaccination and pediatric medical decision-making.

Recent peer-reviewed research continues to raise unresolved questions regarding long-term childhood health outcomes related to early vaccination schedules. Legislative proposals, including HB 1118 and SB 1437, would condition access to education or essential services on compliance with childhood vaccination requirements, thereby intensifying the constitutional concerns addressed in this Memorandum.

This Memorandum does not assert medical causation. It addresses constitutional limits. Where credible scientific uncertainty exists, coercive or punitive vaccination policies implicate informed consent, parental rights, and due process protections.

DEMANDS — PART ONE

- Protection of parental authority in childhood medical decision-making, consistent with constitutional due process and liberty interests
 - Full protection of informed consent and the right to refuse medical intervention
 - No vaccination mandates for education or essential services absent clear constitutional justification and meaningful accountability mechanisms
 - Protection of religious liberty consistent with constitutional standards
 - Prohibition on discrimination based solely on medical or vaccination status

PART TWO — BIOSECURITY EMERGENCY POWERS AND PROPERTY RIGHTS

Section 3 (Part III) of Act 236 (2025) creates grave constitutional risk by enabling warrantless entry, seizure, or control of private property without adequate judicial authorization, compensation, or legislative oversight.

These provisions implicate the Fourth, Fifth, and Fourteenth Amendments and Article I of the Hawai'i Constitution. They also risk creating a parallel emergency regime that circumvents constitutional limits governing emergency powers.

A constitutionally compliant legislative alternative amending Part III of Act 236 is attached as Exhibit B and incorporated by reference.

DEMANDS — PART TWO

- Repeal or strike Section 3 of Act 236
- Judicial warrants for entry, inspection, or seizure
- Court orders prior to property control
- Immediate and just compensation for takings
- Strict duration limits and legislative oversight
- Transparency and notice to affected property owners

PART THREE — EMERGENCY PROCLAMATIONS AND CONSTITUTIONAL LIMITS

Emergency powers exist solely to address sudden, unforeseen, and immediate threats. They are not substitutes for legislation or long-term governance.

The absence of a narrow, enforceable definition of “emergency” in HRS Chapter 127A has allowed administrative or ongoing conditions to be governed by proclamation rather than law. Repeated or extended proclamations demonstrate that current limits are insufficient.

Specific statutory reforms restoring constitutional balance to Chapter 127A are attached as Exhibit C and incorporated by reference.

DEMANDS — PART THREE

- Narrow definition of “emergency”
- Legislative ratification for extensions
- Protection of non-suspendable rights
- Written findings for any suspension of law
- Creation of a bipartisan emergency oversight mechanism

IV. NOTICE REGARDING LEGISLATIVE IMMUNITY AND INDIVIDUAL ACCOUNTABILITY

Legislators and executive officials are hereby placed on notice that legislative or official immunity does not extend to actions that exceed constitutional authority, violate clearly established rights, or result in unreasonable, arbitrary, or non-emergency deprivations of liberty or property.

While legislative immunity may apply to good-faith legislative acts within lawful constitutional authority, it does not shield individuals acting outside the scope of that authority, in excess of jurisdiction, in administrative or enforcement capacities, or in coordination with executive actions that suspend constitutional protections without due process.

This Citizen Memorandum constitutes formal notice that continued support, enactment, enforcement, or facilitation of measures that violate parental rights, bodily autonomy, informed consent, religious liberty, property rights, or separation of powers may expose individual actors to liability in their personal capacity.

Good-faith reliance on unconstitutional statutes, emergency proclamations, or agency guidance does not cure constitutional defects once notice has been provided.

V. INCORPORATION OF EXHIBITS

Exhibits A and B contain proposed statutory reforms for legislative consideration. Exhibit C contains citizen endorsements supporting the reforms described in this memorandum.

VI. FINAL AFFIRMATION

The people of Hawai'i do not surrender constitutional rights in exchange for administrative convenience.

Children are not property of the State.

Homes and farms are not subject to warrantless entry by proclamation.

The Legislature cannot be replaced by emergency declaration.

Failure to remedy unconstitutional frameworks invites constitutional challenge and public accountability.

If any provision of this memorandum is deemed unenforceable, all remaining provisions shall remain in full force and effect.

 - the factual evidence supporting the declaration,
 - why ordinary statutory tools are inadequate, and
 - the precise actions authorized.

(b) Duration and Legislative Oversight.

Administrative convenience, efficiency, or generalized risk shall not constitute exigency.

(d) Court Authorization for Property Control.

No requisition, seizure, destruction, or control of private property, or temporary use thereof, shall occur unless:

1. A court of competent jurisdiction issues an order authorizing the action prior to deprivation;;
 2. The State demonstrates necessity, narrow tailoring, and use of the least restrictive means; and
 3. The action is directly and materially related to the specific biosecurity threat.

(e) Compensation and Due Process.

Any taking, damage, destruction, or temporary use of private property shall require:

1. Immediate and just compensation, determined by an independent tribunal, consistent with Article I, Section 20 of the Hawai'i Constitution and the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution;
2. Prompt written notice to the property owner;
3. A meaningful opportunity to be heard, including judicial review, prior to or immediately following any deprivation.

No compensation scheme shall require acceptance of a government-determined amount as a condition of access to court.

(f) Time Limits on Temporary Control.

1. No temporary control or use of private property shall exceed seven calendar days without judicial review.
 2. Control shall terminate immediately once the specific biosecurity threat has been resolved.

1. Publish weekly public reports detailing actions taken;
 2. Provide written notice of rights and remedies to affected property owners;
 3. Submit a comprehensive report to the Legislature within 30 days after termination of the emergency.

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This Act shall take effect upon approval.

III. FINAL AFFIRMATION AND NOTICE OF RIGHTS

The people of Hawaii do not surrender constitutional rights in exchange for administrative convenience.

Children are not property of the State.

Homes and farms are not subject to warrantless entry by proclamation.

The Legislature cannot be replaced by emergency declarations.

I affirm:

- parents deserve full constitutional authority over their children's medical decisions,
- property owners deserve warrants, due process, and just compensation,
- the public deserves transparency and lawful limits on emergency power.

This memorandum serves as formal notice and demand for corrective action. Failure to remedy unconstitutional frameworks and practices invites constitutional challenge and public accountability.

If any provision of this memorandum is deemed unenforceable, all remaining provisions shall remain in full force and effect.
